

Sasha Bosbeer is a photographer and potter based in the west of Ireland. She has been making images of nature in Ireland for several years, and her images have illustrated many websites and publications. This is Sasha's second exhibition in Galway; in 2007, she worked with the Galway Sri Lanka Project to record portraits of ordinary people in Eastern Sri Lanka.

For Inside Outside: Wild Places, Sasha has collaborated with Kevin Collins to create an exhibition of images exploring the hidden treasures of the Irish countryside. Sasha created her collection of images across all four seasons: winter mushrooms, spring flowers, summer sparkle, and autumn leaves. Close-in examinations and long exposures bring us new images of the nature around us.

Wet hollow,
Coole Park

All photographs exhibited by Sasha Bosbeer were taken using a digital Nikon. The images have been printed on Kodak Professional ENDURA paper and are vacuum heat-sealed with acid-free adhesive and UV protection onto 9mm board.

The photographs are available for purchase, with a portion of proceeds donated to the Green Sod Land Trust (www.greensodlandtrust.com).

Contact details:
Sasha@sashabosbeer.com;
sashatrees@gmail.com

087-6685836
www.thebeargallery.com

All images © Sasha Bosbeer

Inside Outside: Wild Places

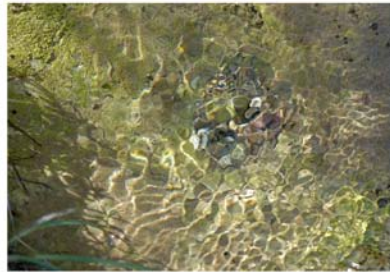

ENFO, St Andrew Street, Dublin

February - March 2009

Images by Sasha Bosbeer

thebeargallery.com

Water: Four seasons

We need nature. We need the clean water and the fuel and the food. We also need the sounds and sights - complicated twig shapes, the wonder of a moth in winter, the crystal lights of a river in sunlight or a plant shedding nighttime frost.

Prices of prints vary depending on size and on whether they are limited editions: Mounted 8" x 10s: € 40., Limited edition 20 x 30", mounted €300. Other prices upon enquiry.

Clockwise from upper left: Autumn puffball, Derrydonnell autumn, Winter velvet, After the rain (springtime in the woods), Fiddleheads, Frosty moss, (below) Spring emerging, Elm turlough, Universe

